EXPERIENCE

AI Product Designer

Feb 2025 – June 2026

Brim · London, UK

- Owned end-to-end research and design of agentic AI workflows, establishing user trust through seamless human-in-the-loop approvals and dynamic state management
- Reduced implementation cycles from 3+ months to under 2 weeks by transforming a static design system from Figma and Storybook into a compositional, agent-readable framework that enabled dynamic runtime generation of new product surfaces
- Partnered directly with the founder on product strategy, defining AI interaction models, evaluation frameworks, and agent-readable specifications to improve reliability and cross-functional iteration
- Validated product-market fit with 20+ early enterprise customers by translating ambiguous business requirements into tailored AI workflows, aligning technical feasibility and business needs to deliver clear proof of value

UI/UX, Product Intern

Aug 2024 – Feb 2025

Brim · London, UK

- Defined the visual foundations for a 0→1 product by conducting 50+ user and stakeholder interviews, translating research into early UX flows and MVP wireframes

EDUCATION

BSc (Hons) Psychology – First Class Honours

Sep 2019 – July 2023

King's College London · London, UK

- Placement year as an Honorary Assistant Psychologist in NHS Talking Therapies
- Dissertation: A quantitative study on future-thinking and wellbeing in adolescents

PROJECTS

Sole Producer – The AI Opportunity

October 2025 – June 2026

Podcast on AI, leadership & organisational change · Hosted by Kenny Alegbe, CEO of Brim

Owned all production independently – guest research and outreach, interview coordination, editing, episode direction, and visual design. Developed a strong understanding of AI adoption trends and enterprise transformation through sustained engagement with practitioners at the frontier.

UX Designer – Deliveroo Hackathon

January 2024

24-hour hackathon · Brainstation UX Design Bootcamp

Redesigned Deliveroo's gifting feature with three engineers and a product manager, presenting the solution to company stakeholders and receiving positive feedback. This was one of several course projects, alongside a donation-flow optimisation for HFT Charity and a final capstone.
